Louder and Prouder Song and Cheer Night

By Editor
Camp Menominee being at capacity can really make the difference. That difference was evident last night in Wasserman Hall when all campers packed in for Song and Cheer Night. The atmosphere was raucous from the start as JEREMY KOHLENBRENER began proceedings with the “Menominee, Menominee” song. Despite not knowing the words, the newer campers did their best to join in and began stamping their feet and cheering along. The campers and counselors had created a large circular group in the middle of Wass Hall as JEREMY continued to lead them into chorus after chorus of different songs. “Hail our Colors”, “Hail to Menominee”, “Bright as a Sunburst” and “To Menominee we sing” echoed around Wass Hall as the atmosphere continued to grow during each song. JEREMY wrapped up the songs for the night and asked everyone to take their seat. However, as he did, chants for the Senior Cabin began and they raced towards the stage to begin their cheers. All campers and counselors got to their feet and circled the stage as KASE RATZLAFF led “I went down to the River”, JACK BEHAR led “Fire Up” and SAM MYERTHALL led “Boom Chika Boom.” Before Taps there was just enough time to “unleash the beast” - DANIEL MALIS - to end the Camp Fire with a flawless display of “SCADOO.” With 180 campers inside Wass Hall, the energy was high ahead of our competition against the camp from the west. Lucky Canteen 236. Once the cheers were finished, everyone took their seat to end the night with Taps. MARC and ETHAN build sandcastles

Twilight League Surprise

By Editor
The start of Twilight League is often a surprise which many of our campers do not see coming. This year was no different as at dinner, to much cheering and happiness, Program Director ETHAN WEISS informed all campers that they would be competing in a sand castle building competition as a cabin, down at the waterfront. After dinner, all cabins made their way back to their cabins to change into suitable outfits for the sand and to discuss potential sand castle ideas. As the campers arrived at the waterfront both ETHAN and MARC GOODMAN were stood in the sand waiting to give a demonstration of what would be expected. As MARC continued to dig in the sand he hit something hard. ETHAN SCHWARTZ asked if MARC had “hit a water pipe” while other campers, led by CHARLIE TAYLOR and ZACH FIELD were trying to squeeze to the front to see what had been hit in the hole. JEFF TOOMBS approached the hole informing the campers that “it will probably be some rocks.” However, much to the shock of all, MARC pulled out a large piece of ice. After smashing the ice MARC held up what was inside – a softball, while shouting “it’s Twi-Light League!” The campers began cheering and celebrating with this announcement and it was left to the softball commissioners; BENJIE SOREN, BRETT WEISS and JAKE HERMAN to announce team captains, rosters and their GMs. After a quick run back to their cabins and an outfit change, all campers were ready for their first game.

By Jon Wool

After flag, all campers, counselors, kitchen staff and admin were called down to the waterfront, in cabin order, wearing either a green or white Menominee tshirt. As the cabins approached, they began discussing what funny faces they would pull and making sure their hair was in perfect shape. JON WOOL was discussing what funny face he was going to pull and slipped down the hill, laughing as he fell. SIMON MANN and DRAKE ELMAN raced down the hill looking forward to their cabin photo and DYLAN FLETCHER was still deciding whether he would wear his green or white Menominee top. First up was the cabin photos, where each cabin sat on the brown benches with their counselors stood behind. Once the cabin photos finished, the campers lined up from tallest to shortest. The shortest camper was ZACH FORMAN and the tallest was CIT JAKE HOODACK. As the bleachers filled up, the campers squeezed together to make sure everybody could fit. After the first photos were taken, everyone got ready for a funny photo. JADEN DONSKY pulled a funny face and COOPER BORSTEIN stuck his tongue out. The all camp photo was a huge success.
